SELF-DEFENSE the power to take > control

Each year, you and your family face different healthcare challenges. Anything from a mild to a severe immune threat. And if you're like many, you've found that conventional medicine isn't always enough. As a complementary formula, Sovereign Silver™ can help you gain control of what matters most to you, feeling and staying healthy.♦

That's because each drop of Sovereign Silver™ delivers pure ion power. Put simply, the power of Sovereign Silver™ comes from its positive electrical charge and its effectiveness comes from a unique particle size. With silver products, the smaller the particle size, the greater its energy. Sovereign Silver™ contains the smallest silver particles ever seen. Proven smaller than any other brand on the market. It is, without question, state-of-the-art.

Significance

Sovereign Silver™ puts you in control of your family's well-being with the highest quality [colloidal] silver hydrosol available today.

The Power in Every Drop

- Unprecedented particle size (0.0008 microns / 0.8 nanometers) and particle energy.
- Safe Concentration of 10 ppm.
- Over 150,000,000 particles of active silver in every single drop.
- Naturally bio-available (based on particle size and dispersion).
- Clear and virtually tasteless. Color indicates contaminants, oxidization or additives are present.
- Can be taken continuously if necessary or desired.

Significance

Sovereign Silver™ is the only product on the market with photographic proof of particle size.

A silver product derives its benefit from particle size and particle energy. The only way to confirm this visually is with an electron microscope. The images above were taken at 100,000x magnification.

Natural-Immunogenics' laboratory has, to date, tested more than 85 commercial brands of colloidal silver and other silver products. The results confirm Sovereign Silver's leadership in the marketplace.

Some manufacturers use a protein or other stabilizers to keep silver particles in suspension or to increase concentration. This only compromises the energy and quality of the formulation, rendering most of the silver inactive.

Silver: A Brief History

The use of silver as a respected preservative, disinfectant, regenerative agent and immune support mineral dates back thousands of years. In the early 20th century it became the immune tool of choice by physicians. Until the advent of antibiotics.

The "wonder drugs" then displaced it. Mainly because such silver formulations were crude by comparison with Sovereign Silver™ today.

We now produce an active [colloidal] silver hydrosol that magnifies all the benefits that silver possesses, offering our customer a more meaningful solution to immune stresses, while simultaneously reducing risk.

Why the move to a [Colloidal] Silver Hydrosol

We began to review the claims of other manufacturers four years ago. Our analyses [of 85+ brands tested] confirm that Sovereign Silver™ should no longer be categorized as just another colloidal silver. We chose, therefore, to reclassify it a silver hydrosol, its accurate scientific name.

A silver hydrosol is a colloid of ultra-pure silver suspended in ultra-pure water. Even though other brands claim only water and silver in their formulations, that is hardly ever the case; we often find nitrates and stabilizers, as well as other contaminants, in them.

Sovereign Silver™ is the perfect dietary immune supplement

SELF-DEFENSE the power of > choice

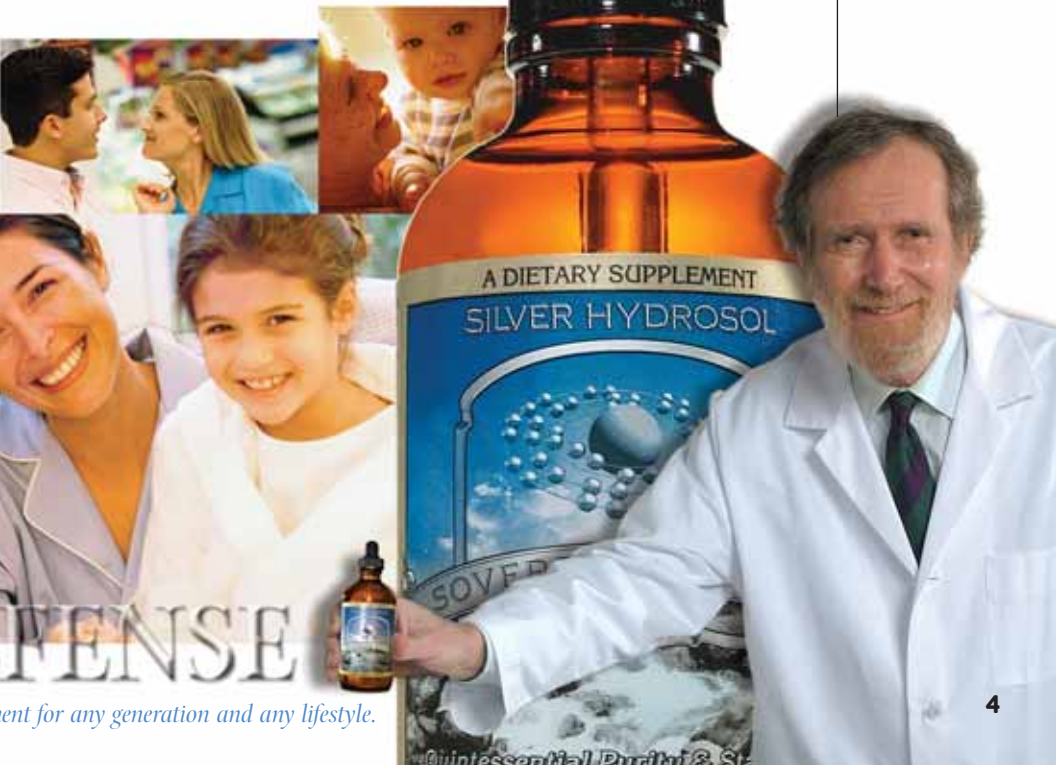

As someone concerned with your well-being, and that of those around you, it may comfort you to know that countless people look to Sovereign Silver™ to complement their family's nutrition. Making it part of your diet is smart. Depletion of our soils has seriously deprived us of minerals. Scientists know that silver can be found in the normal diet. Certain foods, like wheat and mushrooms, contain silver, so our bodies naturally get some. Which begs the question, if it's not an essential mineral [like iron], what is it doing there?

These days, it's not uncommon for health care providers to use alternatives such as Sovereign Silver™ as part of an integrated immune strategy. If you're curious about its benefits, take a moment to discuss your situation with your health care provider. The decision to use Sovereign Silver™ as an immune support tool is a choice we know you'll be happy with.

V

Significance

Incorporating Sovereign Silver™ as part of your family's dietary regimen is a choice you'll be glad you made.

Suggested Dosage Ranges

Our label recommends one or more teaspoons daily of Sovereign Silver™ taken on an empty stomach. Food and drink may be taken 10 minutes later. Wait 2 hours after large meals before resuming dosage. To best support minor immune challenges, we recommend 3 to 7 teaspoons daily for several days, then discontinue or return to one teaspoon daily. To best support sudden or aggressive immune challenges, a teaspoon every twenty minutes for the first few hours, or up to 6 tablespoons daily may be taken for several days or even weeks. For entrenched immune stresses, ask your natural health care provider. In any case, these schedules incur no known risks unless you have an allergy to silver (rare!).

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has established a daily reference dose (RfD) for elemental silver of 350 micrograms (mcg) per day and a critical dose of 980 micrograms per day for an average adult¹. The RfD applies to a continuous daily exposure that is considered unlikely to cause any risk or harm during a lifetime.

Significance

Proper use and choice of silver is important in order to achieve the full benefits of its effects.

SILVER CONCENTRATION	RfD 1 teaspoon taken once a day	RfD Power dose: 1 teaspoon taken 5-7 times daily
10 ppm	50 mcg	250-350 mcg
25 ppm	125 mcg	625-878 mcg
50 ppm	250 mcg	1,250-1750 mcg
100 ppm	500 mcg	2,500-3,500 mcg
250 ppm	1,250 mcg	6,250-8,750 mcg
500 ppm	2,500 mcg	12,500-17,500 mcg
1,000 ppm	5,000 mcg	25,000-35,000 mcg
2,000 ppm	10,000 mcg	50,000-70,000 mcg

This chart relies upon data supplied by the EPA. Sovereign Silver's amazingly small particle size and low concentration of just 10 ppm is well below any known risks established by the EPA when used as labeled or suggested in this brochure. ♦ > knowledge

Q: Can I give Sovereign Silver™ to my baby?

A: According to the medical literature, there is no known risk for an 11 lb baby to ingest up to 70 micrograms (mcg) of pure silver daily, for up to 70 years! That's seven (7) droppers (or 40 fine mist sprays) of Sovereign Silver™ daily.

Q: Can I use Sovereign Silver™ as eye drops or for sores on my skin?

A: Prior to 1999, such products were allowed to be sold 'over-the-counter' for many common complaints, both external and internal. Today, we can only market Sovereign Silver™ as a dietary supplement.

Q: Why is Sovereign Silver™ clear in color while most other silver products are not?

A: Color is an indication of one or more of the following:

- Refraction of light off of large particles
- Chemical reagents or stabilizing additives
- Oxidization during the manufacturing process

Q: Why is Sovereign Silver™ packaged in glass and not plastic?

A: Plastic containers contaminate silver products due to the reaction of silver with plastic. Colloids will leach contaminants from plastic due to its porosity. This creates unwanted chemical reactions. Glass ensures the formulation maintains its quality. This is why we never use plastic.

Q: Do other silver products pose risks that Sovereign Silver™ does not?

A: They can. [Just refer to the chart on the opposite page.] Knowing what are safe and critical amounts of silver ingestion is important. You want to buy a product which allows for multiple daily dosages while remaining safe. As for homemade products, it is impossible to produce safe, high quality silver formulations without the sophisticated laboratory resources available to us.

Q: Are other silver products with higher concentrations more powerful than Sovereign Silver™?

A: No. It's not about concentration, it's all about particle size and particle charge. The smaller the silver particle, the more powerful its energy. Actually Sovereign Silver™, at 10 ppm, outperforms other brands up to 500 ppm.

Q: What is the difference between [Colloidal] Silver Hydrosol, Colloidal Silver, Ionic Silver and Silver Protein?

A: Silver supplement manufacturers try to distinguish themselves from others by categorizing their products so they will have maximum acceptance. The truth is, it all comes down to particle size and energy. We are the only company offering such proof.
